In 2009 at the age of 6, Will Herndon was diagnosed with juvenile Batten disease ó an inherited, neurodegenerative disorder that attacks his vision, deteriorates his cognitive abilities, afflicts him with seizures and eventually will leave him bedridden. Batten disease is fatal, often by the late teens or early twenties. Will is in a race against time and we need your help to bring HOPE to his future.

Over the last 4 years, The Will Herndon Fund for Juvenile Batten Disease Research has funded a team of medical researchers at Texas Children's Hospital who have been investigating treatments and a cure for Batten disease. Last year, this team discovered potential treatment options and we are currently seeking funding for clinical trials. Your support now is more critical than ever.

Our goal is to SAVE WILL and the hundreds of other children stricken with this fate. Please show your HOPE today by purchasing a sponsorship or registering your foursome. All funds raised through HOPE on the Green, and through each Will Herndon Fund event, are dedicated to research into finding a cure.
